The Snuggly ROO is part of the DandleLION® family of neurodevelopmental positioning products.

It is useful for admissions, transport and the perioperative timeframe, because it provides greater visibility of the baby, as well as support and containment.

The padded footroll keeps the lower extremities flexed and contained, while the offset straps help keep hands to face, shoulders rounded, and arms in flexion. When paired with the Dandle® PAL, the Snuggly ROO is ideal for keeping the head in midline while allowing the baby to remain visible to caregivers. After the early critical period, the baby can transition into the Dandle® ROO2 for more optimal, developmentally appropriate positioning.
